SHERWOOD READY FOR FALL TERM OF SCHOOL DAYS

Fall Schedule, Transportation Plans, New Teachers Announced by Principal D. M. Gayley — Building Progressing

Sherwood Central School will open Wednesday, September 8, with a full day's schedule for the first day. Principal Donald Gayley announced that a faculty meeting will be held Tuesday afternoon, September 7, preceded by the usual get-together luncheon.

The new teachers are Bernard Dugan, graduate of Syracuse University, social studies; Mrs. Lois Campbell, who has taught for three years at Genesee Central School, vocal music; Howard Decker, a graduate of Oswego State Teachers College, industrial arts; Miss Winifred Wyant, graduate of Syracuse University, school nurse and attendance officer.

The Board of Education has authorized the following changes: the seventh and eighth grades of Aurora will attend the Sherwood School this year; the Sherwood fifth grade will be transported to the Aurora grade school until the new $78,000 building addition is completed. The Sherwood sixth grade will be housed in the Sherwood district school, similar to the past school year, until the building addition is completed. The fifth grade will be under the direction of Mrs. Beatrice Byrne; the sixth grade under Mrs. Margaret Bowness. The sixth grade will be brought to the Central School for gym class and lunch. Parents of the fifth grade students are advised to provide the students with packed lunches as cafeteria service is not provided at the Aurora school.

Grades 1, 2, 3, and 4 at Sherwood will be housed in the Central building under the direction of Mrs. Alma Bennett, Mrs. Mary Maroney, Mrs. Irene Welch, and Miss Margaret Murphy, respectively.

Construction on the new building is proceeding rapidly. Occupancy is expected by February. The census is now being taken by Mrs. Loreta King, Miss Kathryn Kennaley, guidance director, in visiting the students for arrangement of schedules. Parents newly moved into the district are to contact the school office which is open between the hours of 9 and 4 for registration. Buses will leave the Central building at 7:50 a. m. and will arrive back at the building at approximately 3:35. Buses will leave the Aurora grade school at 8 a. m. and arrive at the school at 8:30 at which time the students in grades 7 to 12 will be transported to Sherwood.

Until the revolution, New York had been under British rule for 110 years.

Lehigh Valley Passenger Service to Ithaca Ceases

Final Trips Made Today Bring To Close Operation of Trains Little Patronized of Late — Provision Made For Transporting Mail Between Points Along Line

Passenger service on the Auburn-Ithaca branch of the Lehigh Valley Railroad ended this morning after the line's passenger train made its last departure for Ithaca at 10:30 a. m. E. S. T. The train formerly arrived at the local station every day at 8 a. m. E. S. T.

The Public Service Commission recently granted the railroad permission to discontinue the service. The PSC was told that the Royal Blue Bus Company offers adequate service over a route parallel to the railroad. The railroad will continue freight service on the line.

Postmaster John F. McGrath stated today that the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company has contracted for truck service to carry the mails in place of the trains. The trucks will service the villages of Ludlowville, King Ferry, Aurora, Levanna and Union Springs and the cities of Auburn and Ithaca.

Springport Club to Be Among Groups at Leadership Event

Fifty-six community councils in as many New York State cities and towns will be represented at the fourth annual Institute of Community Leadership to be held at Caseville for three days beginning September 5. Included in the list is one from Cayuga County, the Springport Civic Association.

The work of the institute will consist of six round-table discussion groups, each to continue throughout the three-day period of the conference and to arrive at a climax on the third day when the work of the six round-tables will be summarized for the entire institute. It is expected that more than 250 men and women will participate.

Among the leaders who will operate in developing the round-table discussions, meetings and features of the three-day institute are: James A. Liben, publisher of Time Magazine; Edmund E. Dey, president of Cornell University, and also head of the New York State Citizens' Council; Sterling Fisher, manager of Public Affairs and Education, National Broadcasting Company; and Henry L. McCarthy, executive secretary of the National Council on Civil Rights.

The institute is sponsored by the New York State Citizens' Council, and will be held at Caseville Junior College. The program director is Mrs. Rhea McKel.

Clever Comedy, "The First Year," Final Offering at Skaneateles

The Skaneateles Summer Theater will sound the cheerful note of amusing domestic comedy for the final presentation of its 11th season, "The First Year," by Frank Craven, will open tonight.

Stalwart members of this and other seasons will be seen in the leading roles, Judson Pratt, whose comedy characterizations have delighted his Auburn friends, watched his progress for a decade, has the chief role of Tommy Tucker in "The First Year," as the harassed bridegroom trying to make his fortune with a "big deal."

Both Puffed plays Tommy's lovingly ambitious but sensitive bride, and David Davis will be seen as the know-it-all suitor who is rejected. Allan Hale will portray the soothing, clever family physician who helps the Tuckers solve their threatened happiness.

In recognition of the good work Rex Farrington has done all season, highlighted by his portrayal of Mac in last week's "Kiss Them For Me," he was awarded the part of Mr. Barstow in this week's play by Walter Davis, the director. Mr. Davis withdrew from the role over the weekend in Mr. Farrington's favor. The young actor is the newest member of the Skaneateles players group.

Mrs. Barstow will be enacted by the experienced comedienne, Fyrene Hamden, and Mary Lou Taylor will be the trying "maid-by-the-day," Hattie Lucille Sears and Irving Mitchell will be seen as the bride's parents. Performances will be given nightly through Sunday with a Saturday matinee.

Catholic Daughters Given Blessing by Pope for Gifts of Clothing for Needy

The summer project of Court America, Catholic Daughters of America, the making of new garments for the children of war-devastated lands, is nearing completion. Each member of Court Auburn has promised at least one new garment for a little child as a personal gift to Pope Pius XII in response to his urgent appeal to all Catholic women of the United States for garments for babies and children to keep them warm this winter.

Mrs. Dora Mansfield and Mrs. Helen Lawson are co-chairmen of the "Children in Need Campaign," and they stated today that all items must be completed and left at the CDA Home, 44 South Street, no later than September 1, so that the shipment may leave New York on September 8's train for the birthday of Christ's mother, Mary. The program is sponsored by the NCOW through affiliated organizations and groups.

This is the first campaign to collect new garments, and it was felt that children's new garments sent directly to the Holy Father for the afflicted children of the world would be a means of bringing him solace. The goal is one million garments and there is no barrier of race, or politics, or creed.

The Pope's appreciation for the work of the Catholic women of the United States is expressed in his blessing, which states: "How could we fail to be moved to the depths of an anxious paternal heart by the constancy of our American Catholic women's devotion to the world's children in need?"

Miss Elizabeth Sullivan Bride At Impressive Church Rites

St. Alphonsus Roman Catholic Church was the scene of the marriage on Saturday, August 2, Miss Elizabeth Egan Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Sullivan of 3 Chestnut Street to Eugene Myrriot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Myrriot of 125 1/2 VanAnden Street.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Frederick G. Straub, pastor. The solemn high nuptial Mass which followed the nuptial ceremony was celebrated by the Rev. Regis Ritter with Father Straub and Rev. Robert Dobberlin as deacon and sub-deacon. In the sanctuary were the Rev. Basil Oates pastor of St. Peter's and Paul's Church and Raymond Spain student at St. Andrews Seminary and friend of the bridal couple. The altar was decorated with lavender gladioli.

The bride, who was escorted by her father, was attired in a floor-length gown of white arlon marquisette made with three tier, high neckline, long fitted sleeves and full skirt terminating in a court train. Her headpiece was of wood pearls attached to a smartly silk illusion veil. She carried white roses centered with orchids.

Miss Marianne Sullivan who was her sister's maid of honor, wore a full, floor-length gown of powder blue organza over tulle, made with scallop treatment at neck and hips. She carried an arm bouquet of deep purple asters and white and pink gladioli.

Miss Katherine Sullivan, another sister as junior bridesmaid, was also attired in powder blue organza made similar to that of the maid of honor and carried purple asters and statice. Peter Covich was best man. The ushers were Frank Bayus and James Wilson cousin of the bride.

The mother of the bride was gowned in an ensemble of gem-metal satin with purple corsage and Mrs. Myrriot, mother of the groom, wore a blue tulle dress with black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

A family breakfast was served in the Palm Room of the Osborne Hotel. Mrs. Myrriot, a graduate of Auburn East High School, is employed in the office of Dean A. McCarthy Company.

The bridegroom served three years with the First Marine Air Wing and holds the Air Medal, two Distinguished Flying Crosses. He is a senior in the School of Business Administration at Syracuse University. After a month trip Mr. and Mrs. Myrriot will reside at 284 1/2 Hamilton Street.

Prior to her marriage, the bride was entertained by Miss Barbara Benn and Miss Joie Peckham. The bridegroom was rendered a dinner on Wednesday evening by a group of friends.

Old of some group at the wedding.

Attractions Sponsored by Auburn Falcons

Entertainment, attractions and midway features will hold sway from Thursday evening, September 1, through Monday evening, September 5, on the spacious grounds at the corner of Palisade and Washington Streets under the auspices of Auburn Nest, Polish Falcons of America and the Auburn Falconettes. A large tent and booths have been erected for the attractions that will be thrown open to the public at 7 o'clock each evening. The grand award will be made Monday evening, September 6. All proceeds will go into the Falcon Building Fund.

Adam J. Leja, president of Auburn Nest and Gabriel Kochman, vice president, are co-chairmen for the affair, and they are being assisted by Walter Dryda, John Ramco, Edward Warsak, Stanley Krawczyk, Frank Pala, Edward Wojnar, Walter Pils and Miss Stella Mierwa, president and Falconette aides.

Funeral of John P. Long
Funeral services for John P. Long of 56 Capitol Street, who died Saturday afternoon at Mercy Hospital were held at 8:30 Tuesday morning at the Avery E. Neagle Funeral Home 93 East Genesee Street with services at 9 o'clock at Holy Family Church. At the church a solemn high Mass requiem was sung by Rev. Eugene McCarthy assisted by Rev. Alfred Horst as deacon and Rt. Rev. Magr. John A. Conway as sub-deacon. There were many Mass cards and flowers.

Burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery where the final prayers were offered by Monsignor Conway assisted by Father Horst.

The bearers were John F. Ganey, Charles Lawler, Charles Dae, Joseph M. O'Connor, Clarence May and Richard Walsh.

ding were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Eccles of Manassas, Md. and George Higgins, the Misses Mary Ellen Deane and Dierdra Higgins of Philadelphia, Pa.; Mrs. M. E. Wood, Charles Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKendrick of Cortland, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Battigan, Jr. of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kearey, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Seabold of Binghamton, Miss Natalie Ordlin of Liberty and Adam Zemotol of Syracuse.

But "control must come from within," he maintained. "Which means that on the structure of press freedom must be imposed the responsibility of the press."

"The community has the right — and indeed the duty — to insist upon such responsibility," he said. "Amplifying his theme of 'control from within,' Suisberger pointed out that medical groups and the legal profession in many counties have set up disciplinary bodies to see that standards are maintained among doctors and lawyers.

He suggested it is time for something similar in journalism.

More Emphasis on Information And Less on Entertainment Is Stressed by Times Publisher

Business Inn, N. Y., Aug. 31 — (AP)—Arthur Hays Suisberger, president and publisher of the New York Times, said today "I think a newspaper should place more and more emphasis on information and less on entertainment."

He added that he thinks "there are sound business reasons for such a policy."

Supplying a truthful accurate information is a primary responsibility of a press which must control itself from within, Suisberger told the New York State Publishers Association in a prepared speech.

"The news lies, in a sense, in the public domain and we are the trustees of a great national interest," he said.

"Obviously, a man's judgment cannot be better than the information on which he has based it. 'Give him the truth and he may still go wrong when he has the chance to be right, but give him no news or present him only with distorted and incomplete data, with ignorant, sloppy or deliberate falsehoods, and you destroy his whole reasoning processes, and make him something less than a man."

It is good business to emphasize information rather than entertainment, because the latter can be presented better by such media as radio and the new television industry, the Times publisher declared.

He added, however, that "television and radio can never replace the newspaper which derives itself to the comprehensive publication of news."

Suisberger said private ownership of the press is its great strength because it could not be free otherwise.

The Times publisher said he felt British newspapers are not able to supply all the information needed by the citizens of that country under their present strict censorship ration.

He said he feels that the labor government there "is risking the fundamental democracy of its people by rationing their information."

"If the British government will allocate the dollars and the supply of newsprint remain short, we on the New York Times are prepared to give up a percentage of our raw materials for British use if other American publishers will do the same," he said.

Mrs. Alfonso Gelo Cheche
Mrs. Alfonso Gelo Cheche died Monday evening at her home, 21 Orchard Street.

Mrs. Cheche was born in Italy and lived in Auburn 47 years. She was a communicant of St. Francis Church and a member of the Roman Auxiliary.

Surviving Mrs. Cheche are her husband, Raffaele Cheche; two sons, Daniel Gelo of Auburn and Frank Gelo of Syracuse; two daughters, Mrs. Matthew F. Cheche and Mrs. Daniel Morocco; one sister, Mrs. Maria Cappella Pecci of Italy and two grandchildren, Ralph and Teddy Cheche.

Funeral services will be held at 8:15 Friday morning at the family home, 21 Orchard Street and at 9 o'clock at St. Francis Church. Burial will be in St. Joseph's Cemetery.
