

Auburn Prison Not Notified About Special License Plates

Auburn Prison officials are consulting dye manufacturers to discuss the cost and possibility of manufacturing new license plates which are to be issued to legislators.

The plates would go to members of the Legislature, New York members of the House of Representatives and the state U.S. senators.

Leonard J. Kinsella, director of industry at the prison said today, "This is as far as we have gotten in the matter," he said. "It was news to us that the plates would be issued in two weeks."

Assembly Speaker Joseph P. Carlini disclosed the plan Tuesday and said it would cost about 35 cents apiece to make the plates.

Mr. Carlini said that each legislator would be issued a special plate in about two weeks to replace the regular plate already issued to legislators this year.

Mr. Kinsella noted that unless the plates are manufactured somewhere else they will not be ready in two weeks.

The plate carries gold lettering on a blue background, the state's official colors. The assembly plate has the words "N.Y. Assembly"

Service Workers Hear Warden Describe Programs

Warden J. Edwin LaVallee of Auburn Prison was guest speaker Monday as 55 members and guests of the Community Service Workers met at Danksha's Woodacres Restaurant. Warden LaVallee spoke on a delinquent person's life.

According to the warden there are three phases in a delinquent person's life.

The first is the probation period designed to redirect a person's motivations to avoid commitment to a punitive institution, he said.

In this respect the State Department helps in establishing standards and in offsetting the expenses of the probation workers who are still underpaid, Warden LaVallee said.

The second phase, which is generally considered by the public as a negative period, is institutionalization, he stated.

The purpose here is to help the inmates be better people when they leave the institution. An academic and vocational program involving 700 inmates, has been developed at Auburn Prison as a pilot project in education in prisons, the warden said.

The prison staff is responsible in this program. Its purpose is to help motivate the prisoners to involve themselves in the additional program, Warden LaVallee noted.

He cited the importance of this program by stating that about 97 per cent of the inmates in jail complete their sentences or are paroled and return to the community. Transfers from other prisons to Auburn are now being made for educational reasons, the warden said.

The service unit, started at Wallkill Prison in 1932 is a valuable part of the prison program, he noted.

Here the evaluation of the placement and progress of the individual inmate occurs and guidance and personal counseling is carried on.

The third phase of a prisoner's life is parole.

The inmate is released into the community under the supervision and guidance of a parole officer who aids the inmate in obtaining employment and in urging a suitable living program for the parolee. A parolee can be returned to prison without court action by the decision of the commissioner of parole, Warden LaVallee said.

Court Accepts Guilty Plea To Illegal Entry

Michael D. McConnell, 19, of 24 1/2 Gaylord St., was allowed to plead guilty to a charge of illegal entry, a misdemeanor, in County Court this morning after being indicted by the January grand jury on charges of burglary third degree, a felony, and petit larceny.

Surrogate Gerald Saperstein, acting county judge, accepted the plea and set March 11 for sentencing.

Mr. McConnell was charged by the police with breaking into the Skyline shop, Jan. 21.

District Attorney Charles W. Avery agreed to the lesser charge Friday when Mr. McConnell appeared in County Court.

Lyle H. Mahannah, 21, of 4 Warren Ave., also indicted as a result of the Skyline entry, did not appear today in court. Mr. Avery said that he and Mr. Mahannah's attorney will arrange for his appearance.

Miss Esther E. Stanton Dies Unexpectedly

Miss Esther E. Stanton, 51, died unexpectedly at her apartment in King's Court, 65 South St., this morning.

Surviving are her parents, former Oswego supervisor Maurice Stanton and Mrs. Stanton of Oswego and a sister, Mrs. J. Bartley Ruth Shaw of Denver, Colo.

Miss Stanton was a member of Auburn Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, Auburn Service League and was recording secretary of the Lamplighters Club. She was a member of First Baptist Church.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Glenn F. Mosher Funeral Home, Rev. Ralph D. Ross and Rev. Augustus N. Peckham will officiate. Burial will be in Fort Hill Cemetery.

Friends may call from 3 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow at the funeral home.

Sports Bulletin

FT. LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Mickey Mantle signed his 1964 baseball contract with the New York Yankees today for a reported $100,000, the same salary he received last season.

The announcement was made at a press conference.

The 32-year-old outfielder is the second highest paid major league. Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants signed for an estimated $105,000 last month.

Stock Market Backs Away From Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market backed away from an early gain this afternoon in heavy trading.

Volume was estimated at 5.6 billion shares for the day, which would be near the highest of the week, compared with 5.35 billion Wednesday.

Profit taking clipped most of the early upsurge based on the actual signing into law of the $11.5-billion tax cut. Most of the changes were narrow although a number of key issues moved a point or so.

The Dow Jones industrial average hovered around the historic 800 mark, first exceeding it during the morning and then dropping back.

Aircraft issues maintained early gains with Douglas up nearly 2, Boeing and Lockheed up about 1 and United Aircraft and General Dynamics ahead fractions. One analyst said the buying stemmed from a report that the government space agency will negotiate with Douglas for purchase of eight more Delta launch vehicles.

Steels, utilities, rails and chemicals were irregular. Metals, oils and airlines were mostly lower.

IBM was off about 6 after an early gain while Polaroid gave up around 4.

Cerebral Palsy Association Slates Open House March 8

The United Cerebral Palsy Association of Cayuga County Board of Directors have announced an open house at the clinic's new location, 115 South St., from 3 to 6 p.m. March 8.

The clinic, formerly located at 64 Cottage St., is now located in the former residence of Col. and Mrs. Charles D. Osborne. The Osborne residence was turned over to the clinic and other United Fund agencies on Dec. 28 by the executors of the estate of Mrs. Edith Wendell Osborne.

The clinic has expanded its facilities and therapies now available are speech and hearing, occupational, physical, psychological and parent counseling. Pediatric and orthopedic consultation services also are available.

Mrs. Charles W. Hudson and Mrs. Harold A. Murdock are co-chairmen for the open house.

Albert DeRoose is president of the association. John K. Gavras has been executive director of the clinic since it was organized 10 years ago.

During the 10 years, 250 children have been screened, evaluated and treated at the clinic, officials report. Present census is 56, they said.

PTA Notes Fathers' Night

Fathers' night was observed by Seward PTA Feb. 19 in the school auditorium. Girl Scouts of Troop 471 under the leadership of Mrs. Harold Lee and Mrs. Curus Day conducted a patriotic ceremony. Mrs. Gordon Dungey spoke on the Girl Scout program. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Knause presided.

Frank Steimle, school custodian, received the custodian's award for the city for the second year. It was presented by Ronald Ayer, administrative assistant to the Board of Education.

Fifth grade students under Miss Ruth Montgomery and Richard Vercurry's direction gave a square dance demonstration, afterward inviting their parents to join in.

Mrs. Stanley Singer, hospitality chairman, was assisted by first and second grade mothers. William Kudis, Stanley Singer and John Cogar were hosts.

Mrs. Robert Gower's fifth grade had the largest number of parents present.

Six Vehicles Damaged

Three accidents occurred on city streets yesterday in which two persons suffered minor injuries and six vehicles were damaged, police said.

An Auburn taxi driven by Harold Brewer, 37, of 23 Van Anden St., and a Red Diamond taxi driven by Gaylord Wilmarth, 39, of 233 Woodlawn Ave., collided near 96 Van Anden St. at noon yesterday, according to Patrolman Steven E. Emmi.

Cars driven by Ward Davis, 49, of RD 2, Maryland St. Road, Phelps, and Chester Rutkowski, 34, of 16 Bradford St., collided at 2:40 p.m. at the Garden and North streets intersection. Patrolman Emmi reported.

Mrs. Davis, 48, complained of a headache and said she would see her own doctor, police reported.

Cars driven by Paul L. Murphy Jr., 18, of 31 Grove St., making a left turn from E. Genesee St. to Owaseo St., and John Myrskog, 44, of 300 Owaseo St., heading south on John Street and crossing the intersection, collided at 9:15 p.m. Patrolmen Sam Testa and Ronald Semple said.

Barbara Myrskog, 12, a passenger in the Myrskog car, suffered a bump on the head, police reported.

CD Directors to Meet

Arthur E. Stephen, director of Cayuga County Civil Defense and Robert P. Lewis, assistant director, will attend the semi-annual State Civil Defense directors conference March 9-11 at the United States Military Academy, West Point.

Eleven workshops will be held. Mr. Stephen will be panel moderator for a workshop which will discuss problems of local Civil Defense directors.

On Tuesday Mr. Stephen will be assistant moderator of a panel which will discuss "Duties of a Local Public Disaster Coordinator."

Extension Meetings Set

Three information meetings on vegetable crops and seeds have been scheduled by the Tri-County Vegetable Extension Service next week.

On Tuesday, two meetings will be held.

A seed treating clinic will be held from 10 a.m. to noon at the Hafner Packing House in North Syracuse. A regional pea and sweet corn meeting will be held from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the America Legion Hall, LeRoy.

On Wednesday, a regional snap bean meeting will be held at Jordan Hall, Geneva.

The Santa Fe Trail had several starting points in Missouri—Franklin, then Independence and Westport. It ran southwesterly across Kansas.

Expectant Mother Escapes Injury When Car Crashes

A 23-year-old Seneca Falls woman, an expectant mother, escaped injury yesterday when the car she was driving skidded off Genesee Street into a ditch, landing on its side.

Mrs. Theresa L. Orlando of 44 Mill St., was driving west near Crane Bridge when two dogs ran into the road causing her to apply the car brakes, police said.

Police gave the following account of the accident:

Mrs. Orlando lost control of the car when it skidded and knocked down two guard rails, landing on its left side near a tree in a ditch. Patrolmen Steven E. Emmi and Peter Killian reported.

Mrs. Orlando, who said she was in the last month of her pregnancy, was helped from the car by two employees of the Charles Hines Chevrolet Inc.

Don Newell, foreman of the body shop, and William Hale, service manager, freed Mrs. Orlando by climbing on top of the car and pulling her out through a doorway, patrolmen said.

Mrs. Orlando said she would see her doctor. Patrolmen Steven E. Emmi and Peter Killian reported. The accident occurred at 5:45 p.m. The Orlando car was towed away.

Ten Eyck Services

Funeral services for Mrs. Maud Lewis Ten Eyck of Fleming who died Tuesday in Auburn Memorial Hospital were held at 1 p.m. today in the Langham Funeral Home.

Gordon Longway of Skaneateles conducted a Christian Science service. Burial was in Fort Hill Cemetery.

Nice for a change: frankfurters baked in barbecue sauce in a covered casserole.

SUSPENDS SENTENCING

A Syracuse man pleaded guilty to a charge of littering today in Recorder's Court. Recorder John L. Naskiewicz said he would suspend passing of sentence provided the defendant not come to Auburn again unless he had a legitimate reason.

The man was charged with littering on Genesee Street at 12:01 p.m. yesterday, police said.
