Dear Abby
She wants to have lover's child

DEAR ABBY I am very much in love with a married man. It began two years ago when I went to work for him. I am married and have two children, six and eight. My husband is a nice guy, but nothing special. We don't communicate at all anymore. His whole life is sports.

Abby, I want more than anything else in the world to have my lover's child because I know I can never have him. He says he loves me, but he will never leave his wife because he loves her, too, in a different way. Also, he says having an affair is one thing, but he doesn't believe in breaking up another man's home.

I have expressed my desire to have his child, but he says it would be the worst thing I could do to myself. I don't agree with him. I feel that if our affair ends — as most affairs do, at least I will have a part of him to remember him by. Who would that be hurting as long as nobody but us knew it?

MY DREAM

DEAR MY: Your "dream" sounds like a plot for a grade "B" movie. Wake up! You're courting disaster with such hazardous notions.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I invited a friend to dine with us at a family restaurant to celebrate her birthday. Across from us sat a couple, their son, who looked about 4 years old, and another adult.

The child talked loudly and incessantly. At one point he amused himself by loudly saying the ABC's over and over, making it impossible for us to converse.

When our guest went to the restroom, the boy followed her and tried to get in. Fortunately the door was locked. The boy's parents witnessed the whole thing and didn't say a word. After our guest vacated the restroom, the boy didn't go in, which indicated he didn't have to use it, he only wanted to annoy her.

That child ruined our evening. When we left we spoke to the owner about it and he said the parents and that child ate there often and there was nothing he could do about it.

Please print this to let parents know that they should either train their children to behave in public or leave them home. They have no right spoiling an evening out for others.

NAMELESS

DEAR NAMELESS: Parents of ill-mannered children don't care whose evening they spoil. You should have complained directly to the parents or to the management earlier in the evening, and when it became clear that nobody cared, you should have gone elsewhere.

DEAR ABBY: A woman signed "IGNORED" wrote to complain that her husband made it plain that he preferred the TV set to her, and you replied, "Maybe it's because he can turn off the TV when he wants to."

You should have added that he can also turn the TV "ON" when he wants to.

ROBERT B.

DEAR ROBERT: I would have had I thought of it. Thanks for the assist!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "GOT THE BLUES" Chin up, honey. A big disappointment today could be a blessing in disguise tomorrow.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90009. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.
