BENHAM IS BUSY

But Will Take in Saratoga Convention on Way to Washington. Warden Benham left last night for Saratoga where he will attend the Republican State convention and from there he will go direct to Washington to attend the conventions of the American Prison Association and the International Prison Congress. The National Association convenes on Thursday night of this week and on Saturday morning Warden Benham will report to the Delightful Committee of which he is chairman. The International Congress convenes on October 2. Death of Miss Ann Sullivan. The many friends of Miss Ann Sullivan will be pained to learn of her death which occurred at the home of her brother, Michael Sullivan, No. 18 Rose Place yesterday morning at 7 o'clock after an illness of several weeks' duration. Miss Sullivan has been a resident of this city nearly all of her life and was very well known and liked on account of her quiet, unassuming manner which endeared her to her many and lasting friends. She is survived by two brothers, Michael of this city and Dennis of New York, to whom will be extended the sincere sympathy of their friends in their affliction. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at 8:45 with services at the Holy Family church at 9:30. Burial will be made in the family plot in St. Joseph's cemetery.

REALLY 'T WAS EASY

Bancroft Finished Alone in the Shrievalty Race. MACHINE HAD PLANNED WELL

And Not a Cog Slipped—Kingston of Weedsport Named for Special Surrogate.

The Republican County Convention held at the Court house on Saturday afternoon jogged along according to machine schedule in so far as the matter of nominating a candidate for sheriff of Cayuga county was concerned. There was a whole lot of speculation as to who would be the nominee for several months past. Messrs. Bancroft, Walker and Wilcox all along were confident that they would win, while Charley Shaft was confident that he could carry the town of Moravia against his fellow townsmen, Thomas M. Walker. Shaft made good in that town, as the machine leaders had all predicted, and then the programme of the machine organization was easily carried out. On the informal ballot the candidates showed all their respective strength with Bancroft getting 80 votes, Walker 65 votes, Wilcox 41 votes and Shaft 26 votes. Then the fine work of the organization became manifest. All but three of the Moravia delegates in the Shaft column on the first ballot turned their strength over to Bancroft as did part of the Sterling delegation, giving Bancroft 107 votes. The Walker delegates stood firm, getting 55 votes, Wilcox lost two votes, getting 39, and Shaft 3 votes. That was just enough to nominate Bancroft but as there was an excess of one ballot, another had to be taken which resulted in a general climbing over to the Bancroft band wagon and giving him the nomination by many votes to spare. He received 121, Walker 63, Wilcox 28 and none for Shaft. Mr. Walker was concededly the strongest candidate before the convention when it is taken into consideration that he fought the combined Republican organization of the county practically made the fight single handed. The machine leaders claimed that they were not taking part in the campaign, and that the nomination was to be an "open" fight. But it is known the leaders all over the county had promised every candidate to keep hands off, while in reality conferences were had all along, with Postmaster Fordyce of Union Springs the mouth-piece of the machine and working and preaching all the time for Mr. Bancroft. Mr. Bancroft had the support of Warden Benham, Postmaster Fordyce, County Clerk Warner, et al., the "boys" with the pull and the patronage to direct, a substantial asset in any political fight in Cayuga county, which is always in the hands of about a dozen office holders. Sheriff Ferris was loud in his advocacy of Mr. Walker but the Court house did not show any indication of sorrow or chagrin as he mingled with the "boys" after the nomination was settled. William Wilcox was backed up by his namesake "Ben" Wilcox, but the latter could not muster up his expected strength in the north end of the county. It was the opinion of many of the politicians that as the former Senator is now down toward the bottom in Cayuga county politics, the gang who were put in their present positions by the Senator intended to keep him down, if possible. It was apparent that the Moravia delegates did not care about having the office of sheriff for that town and the turning to Mr. Bancroft practically substantiated the rumor that has been current for several weeks past that Mr. Bancroft would get the delegates on the second ballot and that Mr. Shaft would get the office of under sheriff, now held by Mr. Walker. If he cared for that position, the convention of Saturday was the first one in many seasons in which Jerry Quill of the Ninth ward has had a thinking part. The nomination of Mr. Bancroft was made unanimous on motion of Mr. Walker. The selection of a special county judge was a cinch for John Taber, the organization candidate, over L. K. R. Laird who hoped to be the organization choice, but who did not get anywhere near the votes which he said had been promised him. Only one ballot was taken, resulting in Mr. Taber getting 122 votes to 56 for Mr. Laird. The latter moved to make the nomination unanimous. The contest for the office of special surrogate was a hot one between Ralph A. Harter of Moravia, John F. Kingston of Weedsport, and Irving Bacon of Auburn. Mr. Harter had made an active canvass for the office and was confident of winning. He received 76 votes on the first ballot, to 62 for Mr. Kingston and 39 for Mr. Bacon, and another ballot had to be taken there being no choice. Before the second ballot was taken there was a general outcry of "no more" from the south end, who wanted to get the Lehigh train for home. Mr. Harter received 64 out of the 149 cast, Mr. Kingston 63, and Mr. Bacon three votes. Then several of the city delegates, when informed that nearly all offices had been given to the south end, transferred their promised allegiance to Mr. Harter and voted for Mr. Kingston. Also several more delegates from the south end left for home and the Kingston adherents supplied everyone available with such substitutions and succeeded in turning the tide for the Weedsport man. The third ballot resulted in a nomination, Mr. Kingston getting 75 votes, Mr. Harter 65 and Mr. Bacon two votes. Both Mr. Harter and Mr. Kington, the leaders in the contest, are two of the brightest young attorneys in Cayuga county and each would have been a credit to the office being bright, clean and capable men. All of the successful candidates were brought before the convention and each tendered his thanks for the honor conferred and predicted Republican victory at the polls next November. Former Senator Wilcox acted as chairman of the convention during the closing minutes, in the absence of Chairman Allen who had to hustle to get the southbound train at the Lehigh. The Executive committee of the Republican General committee was empowered to fill any vacancies and the convention adjourned.

WALKER AFTER PRESENT JOB. But Former Jailor John Drake Looms Up as Probability.

Most of the political talk about the streets of the city this morning, was about the shrievalty situation in Cayuga county. It is understood that Thomas M. Walker, present under sheriff and candidate for the sheriff's office is out to secure the appointment to his old position. Many would like to see Mr. Walker land the lower plum. It is said that Mr. Shaft was well taken care of by the Republican machine for landing the Moravia delegates at the convention and that he has no desire for the position of under sheriff. But, it is also said that he can have the place if he so desires. Those who are in a position to know the inside workings of the county organization say that John Drake of the Ninth ward is slated for the position of under sheriff and that he will be appointed by Mr. Bancroft if he should be elected. Mr. Drake threw up a position at the prison to take the job as turnkey at the county jail and poor health caused him to resign the position. He is familiar with all the details of the sheriff's office and would make a competent official if named by Mr. Bancroft. Congressman Seneca E. Payne, head of the delegates chosen to represent Cayuga county at the Republican State convention, left for Saratoga yesterday morning. Other delegates left last night and today so as to be on the ground when the convention is called tomorrow noon. The delegates chosen at the District convention last Thursday are: Seneca E. Payne, Benjamin M. Wilcox, William S. Elder, Charles J. Hewitt, Albert B. Hallett, William B. Reed, George B. Turner, J. Guernsey Allen, Frank A. Weddigen, William E. Rounds, Arthur E. Blauvelt, the alternates are: L. K. R. Laird, Henry W. Brixius, S. J. Westfall, John B. Smith, E. Q. Dutton, Thomas A. Wilcox, Charles Higgins, Elmer Webster, Alfred Avery, George N. Coon, William F. Beach. About all the regular delegates are at Saratoga or are on their way.

BLAUVELT AGAIN CHAIRMAN.

And Former Senator Wilcox Treasurer of General Committee. The members of the Republican General Committee held a meeting at the close of the County convention late Saturday afternoon and organized for the coming campaign with the election of the following officers: Chairman, Arthur E. Blauvelt; secretary, Samuel H. French of the Eighth ward; treasurer, Benjamin M. Wilcox of the Second ward. The campaign was talked over and meetings will be held in the near future to map out the work in the county.

HELD FIVE CONVENTIONS

Socialists Name Geneva Man for Congress Against Payne. The Socialist congressional, county, senatorial, assembly and city conventions were held on Saturday night in the headquarters in the Smith block in the presence of a large number of members of the party. Prior to the convention a large list of names of new adherents to the Socialist cause was presented and the men formally enrolled in the party. Investigation showed that of the new names all who had been previously enrolled in another political party were Republicans. The conventions were held in the above order, James Bohan being chairman of all the organizations. Clayton J. Hicks was secretary. The following ticket was named: Congressional. For Member of Congress of the Thirty-first district, Preston Wright of Geneva. Senatorial. For Senator of the Fortieth district, George H. Frank of Auburn. Assembly. For Member of Assembly, Cayuga district, Homer L. Hurbut of Auburn. County. For Sheriff, J. Thiden Davis of Port Byron. For Special County Judge, B. F. Arnold of Auburn. For Special Surrogate, Fred C. Groom, Scioto. City. For Assessor, Charles N. Sherwood of Auburn. For Constables, Charles G. Wyllie of the First ward, Jacob Dieter of the Fourth ward. Committee to fill vacancies in any of the above tickets, Edward E. Gohl, Harry T. Pope and Jacob Dieter. The convention was very enthusiastic and the candidate for Congress Preston Wright of Geneva was declared and made a speech. He declared that the Socialists would make a big gain this year and told of the tremendous wave of dissatisfaction that had swept over Ontario and Yates counties against Mr. Payne, scores of Republicans informing the Socialist

RULE IS A BAD ONE

Convict Robbed Clerk Tobey Who Befriended Him. COMMITTED OTHER CRIMES

And Now After Finishing a Term in Pennsylvania Is to Be Brought Back.

Beleated penance will in all probability be exacted in the near future from a former convict in Auburn prison who after being befriended by former Clerk Walter H. Tobey, took advantage of the latter's absence from his home in this city where the ungrateful convict was enjoying hospitality and after packing up valuables and clothing to the value of several hundred dollars skipped out. The convict in question is Andrew M. Rule, alias Alfred J. Horton, alias Jansen Everets, etc. In 1907 Rule was an inmate here serving a term for larceny and his cleverness in prison had earned for him a clerical position in the front office where he became acquainted with Clerk Tobey, now of Rochester. The latter interested himself in the man's case and on his release on July 23, 1907, he secured a position for him in one of Auburn's big industries. He had been out but 10 days when Mr. and Mrs. Tobey had occasion to visit relatives in Rochester and Rule was then residing at their home in North street, was left alone as a reliable guardian. The Tobey returned to Auburn on August 3 and to their amazement found that their protégé had flown and the house had been ransacked. Clothing and jewelry valued at between $200 and $300 was missing, and the police were notified. Chief Bell sent instructions broadcast to the police to be on the lookout and as suspected Rule was found to have gone to New York city where some of the stolen property was traced. Rule made his escape from New York was shortly afterward heard from in Newark, N. J., on a charge of attempting to pass a worthless check. His true identity was soon learned from the Bertillon measurements and then his course since his departure from Auburn was easily found in a string of bad checks in small amounts that had been cashed in various cities. His arrest soon followed at Philadelphia on a charge of forgery, he was convicted and he was sent to do a "bit" in the Eastern penitentiary. Meanwhile, once it was known here that he was stowed away, the local police made out a case against him and he was indicted by the grand jury of October, 1907, on a charge of grand larceny and word was sent to the Eastern penitentiary to inform the Cayuga county authorities when he would be released. The date was received by Chief Bell a few days ago and he informed Sheriff Ferris and the latter with Deputy Sheriff E. Gilbert Johnson left yesterday for Philadelphia where they will secure the elusive Rule and he will be brought back here to answer for his crime.

DRINK AND SOCIAL EVIL

Invighed Against by Field Secretary of Prohibition Party. George D. Harger, field secretary of the Prohibition party of this State, who hails from Oswego, gave a talk on The Liquor Problem from a Christian Standpoint before a small crowd at Trinity church yesterday afternoon. The meeting was opened with a few remarks by L. R. Carl and Rev. Eli Pittman, pastor of the church, offered prayer. Mr. Harger took for his text, "Go thou and do likewise." He said in part:

"I am glad to bring this message to you because you are the ones to hear it and work for it. Sometimes I think that we feel that eternal life depends on our mental attitude towards sin. Many are helpless before the liquor robbers; the robbers of the highway are not so emphatic. I would rather have my boy held up on the highway with a gun than to be held up in such a place. These robbers ask you for the privilege to run those places and they get it." Mr. Harger criticized the town elections and the way that the problem is handled in cities. "When the immigrants come here," said the speaker, "the only one to meet them is the robber and his is the only door open to them. It is the only place that they can go nights. And what do they see of God's country? The immigrants are the innocent victims of these robbers. Are we Christians when we do not recognize this? Another victim is the boy going through school and then to college. In the boy is a latent talent that once aroused keeps going and although warned when they start they break out. The beautiful grill rooms and decorations charm them. They want to look big so they order champagne for an experiment. This is a temptation that they ought not to have to meet on their road to reason. We ought to save them and not subject them to the crime. Legions go this way." "Another class are the husbands who are good home men until they get started. The closing of one particular place will not do the work. All must go. It is hard under the existing conditions to close up any one of these places that are now violating the law. The cure is to bring the drunkard to the altar of the church and get him to give up his heart to God." "Then another question linked with the liquor problem is the social evil. This is a result of the problem and will stay until the liquor traffic is stopped. I can say that where the social evil does not exist as a business and is known to the district attorney, police and sheriff. We ought to oppose this and break down the public sentiment that is for it. We ought to see to it that the officials get away from the custom of pulling them once a year and pull them every time they think that the evil is existing." Mr. Harger gave many figures on the social evil question and closed with the advice to have public sentiment and the church break up the two evils. Mr. Harger will speak at the Court house Wednesday afternoon at 1:30.

INSURANCE.

Fire, Lightning and Tornado Have No Terrors For Old Policy Holders. Fleming, N. Y., Sept. 24, 1910. Bailey-Brinkerhoff Agency, 99 Genesee Street, Auburn, N. Y. Gentlemen—I have received draft from Glen's Falls Insurance Co., in full settlement "cash without discount" of my claim for loss on account of live stock killed by lightning. It is evident that the "Old Folks" pay spot cash and there is no loss when protected by their policies. Very truly yours, W. M. TOWNSEND. Mr. Townsend should have said there can be no loss when insured under the policies of the "Old Folks." They had cash in banks July 1, 1910, $10,000,000.00. Take no chances, and put your side by renewing your policies with the "Old Folks." BAILEY-BRINKERHOFF AGENCY.

WEATHER WAS BAD.

But Syracuse Guardsmen Got Three Sharpshooters and Five Experts. Three members of Company C of Syracuse qualified as sharpshooters and five as experts at the Troop range Saturday afternoon under adverse weather conditions. Those who did not qualify and those who did formed two teams of six men each and had a team shoot shooting from the 200, 300 and 600 yard marks and the shooting was very satisfactory. A number of the members of Troop D will be here Wednesday to qualify for sharpshooters and experts. Saturday is the day for distinguished expert practice and the six Company M Troop D and Company C of Syracuse will be here. Millinery Opening. Inspection days of new Fall Millinery Tuesday and Wednesday. Complete display of Pattern Hats, New York Models and Gage Hats. Mrs. R. Lattimore Wood, 55 Genesee St. Funeral of Mrs. J. Had Pearson. The funeral of the late Mrs. J. Had Pearson was held at the family home No. 10 Lincoln street, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The house was filled with friends and relatives and the floral tributes were especially beautiful. The services were conducted by Rev. Horace W. Smith of Port Byron. The funeral party went by special trolley to Soule cemetery where burial was made. The bearers were L. H. Rightmyer, George M. McCarroll, George W. McFarland, Frank Hura, E. B. Fay and J. J. Darston. PLAYED IN HALVES

Instead of in Four Periods Under New Rules. AND ON A VERY POOR FIELD

Yet Auburn High Managed to Score Three Touchdowns and Blanked Mynderse.

In a dull and uninteresting game of football the Auburn High school team won from the Mynderse Academy boys of Seneca Falls at that place Saturday. The game was replete with fumbles on both sides. For both teams it was the first game of the season and they showed a lack of experience and familiarity with the new rules. The game was supposed to be played under the new rules but Captain Sebring of Seneca Falls asked that owing to the greenness of his men that it be played in halves instead of quarters as the new rules indicate. Captain Chapman granted this point to his adversary, but aside from this it was played according to the new rules. They worked fairly well. They place more responsibility on the officials than the old rules placed. The quarterback can go through the line at any place and in order to make a forward pass a player does not have to go for the five yards. There was only one penalty imposed in the game and this was of 15 yards on the Auburn boys for pushing the quarterback through for the line. The Falls boys offered as an additional inducement to the Auburn team that before the game they could not rake up what grass or rather a crop of hay that had been cut that morning. The field was old and old back lot one-half of which had been mowed, while on the other end a crop of Queen Ann's lace was flourishing, it standing up about 20 inches high was remarkable the time was not taken out of them that it was in order to search for the ball lost in the long grass. Side lines had never been heard of and a player could go as wide as he desired. There had been a great amount of time and energy spent in erecting goal posts. At the end of the field, where the grass was cut two poles made from picture moulding had been set up and a stick borrowed from the standard for the jumping contests had been nailed between the posts. Before the game began, however, a puff from nearby hay had carried this way and nobody could find it so if the ball got between the posts and looked high enough it was counted a goal. If the touchdown was made at the other end of the field the ball was carried down to the other end to the goal posts for the kick. The Auburnians were slow in getting started and did not open up the holes that they should for the backs. Schmidt, Shaw and Falley, the ends, did not improve with experience. When they once got started they are all right but it takes them some time to get on the move. Brister, Lopper and Elred at the tackles did not show off any brilliant plays. They could not seem to get the jump on their opponents. This, however, was partly due to the slow field. Hughes, Taber and Herron, guards, were just about able to hold their own. Ramsay at center was almost in the same good form that he was in last year. Bennett, a new man at left half showed the lack of experience also. He made a number of fumbles, but this will be overcome in this week's practice when the men get to doing some real hard work. In one half Peary Leary showed great speed and good tackling. He was also a valuable ground gainer. Chapman at full showed to advantage. He ran his team well and was there every time with the encouragement that the team needed. He also was the best ground gainer. Bell at the other half showed that there was good material in him for a fast and heady back. The first touchdown was made after three minutes of play. Leary kicked off to Smith who ran the ball only a few yards. Seneca Falls recovered the ball on a fumble on the one and one-half yard line. Sebring punt to Bennett who ran the ball back 15 yards. Chapman added another 15 and Bell carried it over. No goal. Score 5-0. The second touchdown was made in seven minutes. Leary kicked off to Terrell who ran it back for three yards. Auburn took the ball on downs and by consistent attack shoved it over, Chapman carrying the pigskin. Leary failed at goal, as he stubbed his toe on one of the small mountains. Score 10-0. This ended the scoring for the first half. In the second half Casey kicked to Bennett. Leary was sent around end for 50 yards. The ball changed hands several times in the middle of the field and then Auburn began the onslaught. Chapman, Leary and Bell each adding 10 or 15 yards at a time until Chapman carried it over for the third and last score. No attempt at goal. Score 15-0. The line-up was as follows: Auburn, 15. Seneca Falls, 6. Schmidt, Falley, Left end. March Brister, Left end. Reagan, Left tackle. Van Ciba, Taber and Hughes, Right tackle. Ramsay, Quarterback. Kirby, Herron, Center. Jacobie, Eldred, Lopper, Right guard. Ward, Shaw, Right tackle. Terrell, Bennett, Right end. McCarroll, Left guard. Scarderson, Leary, Quarterback. Winters, Bell, Left half back. Sebring, Casey, Right half back. Smith, Sebring, Chapman, Full back. Sebring, Referee, Francis Bennett of Auburn.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Beebe Direct Singing—Ramsay Trying for Colgate Eleven. The chorus singing at the High school took on a new aspect this morning when Joseph C. Beebe took charge until the return of Mr. Scovill. Mr. Beebe certainly made the students sing this morning and the volume was excellent. At the close of the chapel exercises this morning the school cheers were given, in celebration of the school victory on Saturday. Alfred Ramsay, A. A. H. S., 1910, who was last year's captain of the football and track teams and who is one of the best all around athletes that the local High school has ever had, has entered Colgate. Ramsay is out for the football team and so far he has shown up well. He is now holding down the position of left half back on the Varsity. If "Pete" keeps up the brilliant work that he has shown so far he will probably get in to the first game which is to be on Saturday. The friends of Ramsay all wish him success, and hope that he will make the first team permanently.
